Floating Egg

Science Experiment

Method

1. Using a measuring jug, fill the bowls two-thirds full with water.
2. Add one egg to the bowl with just water and observe what happens.
3. Give the children spoons and salt. Ask them to find out how many spoonfuls of salt it takes to make the egg float.
4. Put 1 spoonful of salt into the water bowl and stir. Then test the egg.
5. Repeat step 4 until the egg floats.

You will need:

Large bowls
Measuring jug
Tablespoons
Salt
2 eggs

Literacy/ Understanding the world task

Pick a water experiment and write a few sentences about the findings from the experiment.

Diving Frog Bottle

Science Experiment

Method

1. Cut the pipette at the 2ml line. Discard the thin end and keep the top part.
2. Glue the 5p piece to the remaining pipette, just above the 2ml line. Cut out and glue on the laminated frog image to the bottle - (this can be found on the Extended Prompt Card.)
3. Fill the bottle to the top with water.
4. Add the top part of the pipette with the 5p and frog glued on, open end first. Screw on the lid.
5. Test your frog to see if it works by squeezing the bottle. The frog should sink when you squeeze it and rise when you let go.
6. If it is not sinking when squeezed, it needs a little more weight. Open the bottle, remove the 'frog', add a blob of sticky tack to the pipette and try again.
7. Once the frog diver works, secure the lid with tape or glue, to prevent the young children opening the bottle.

You will need:

1 litre bottle (squeezable)
Water
Plastic pipette/dropper
Frog image - laminated
Waterproof glue (not PVA)
5p piece
Sticky tack
Sticky tape
